

An image-diary from the Balkans.

by ROLAND PENROSE

July–September 1938.

for Lee

The ROAD

is

WIDER

than

LONG.

THE ROAD IS WIDER THAN LONG

They breathe with the night in houses whose marble veins are washed with sail cloth

whose carpets are covered with olives

whose gardens begin under the sea