

Introduction

The complex, intertwined history of cats and humankind is believed to stretch back at least ten thousand years.

When peripatetic hunter-gathering societies gradually shifted towards arable farming and more permanent settlements, one of the many advantages was the ability to store food for longer and in greater quantities than before. Such a change presented fresh challenges, however, one of which – vermin – could mean the difference between life and death, particularly during the harsh months of winter.

Mice and rats thrived where grain and other crops were stored, but help was at hand. Cats, drawn by a plentiful supply of food, inadvertently aided humans by ridding them of these pests; in turn, grateful farmers provided board and lodging for their feline saviours, and an alliance based on mutual interest was born. The cat, which even then knew when it was onto a good thing, has maintained this relationship ever since.

It is generally believed that domestication of the cat – Felis catus – first occurred in the Fertile Crescent, an area encompassing parts of West Asia such as Kuwait, Iraq, Iran, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Lebanon and Egypt – the very area in which humankind itself is believed to have originated. From here the cat soon spread – through trade, human movement and natural roaming – and today, Antarctica is the only continent in the world to not have a domestic cat presence of some kind.

Throughout this long and chequered history, cats have been revered as deities, persecuted as witches and demons, and are the subject of countless myths and legends, superstitions and beliefs. Cats are one of the most popular pets worldwide, coming second only to the faithful dog, and whether a cat lover or hater, it is rare to find someone entirely indifferent to their presence. Indeed, they are so beloved by humankind that there is even a word for a love or great fondness of cats: ailurophilia.

This book is an exploration of the varied and often strange ways in which cats are represented within folklore across the globe. The aim is both to celebrate these marvellous creatures, and also to bring us to a closer understanding not only of cats, but also of humankind as a whole and the world that we share with our feline companions.

Note: It is important to note that, throughout history, there have been many beliefs that have led to cruel and brutal treatment of cats and animals in general. While some mention of such practices is unavoidable, they are not the focus of this book and references to animal cruelty will be kept to a minimum.

Contents

Introduction	6
--------------	---

PART 1:

Sayings, Superstitions and Strange Beliefs	8
--	---

Fateful Felines: Good and Bad Fortune	10
Unlucky for Some: Black Cats	11
The Curse of the May Kitten	15
Puss in Boots: Constantino and His Cat	16
Throwing a Black Cat: The Treasure of the Carbunclo	23
Japan's Inviting Cat: Maneki Neko	24
Matters of Life and Death	29
The Nine Lives of a Cat	30
Take Your Breath Away	32
Kill or Cure	34
From Titanic to Lusitania : Cats and Shipwrecks	35
Cats and the Weather	42
Rain, Rain, Go Away	43
Cats at Sea	47
Lucky at Sea: Polydactyl Cats	50
Cats and Popular Sayings	51
Curiosity Killed the Cat and Other Idioms	52
Letting the Cat Out of the Bag	56
Raining Cats and Dogs	57
Witches and Cats	60
The Witch's Cat	61
Cat Saints and Feline Deities	64
Bastet and the Sun God: Cats in Ancient Egypt	65
Cat Gods and Goddesses	71
Ceridwen and Other Goddesses	79
The Cat on the Ark and Other Legends	80
How the Tabby Got Its Markings	82
Patrons of Cats: St Jerome and Other Cat Saints	83
The Cat and the Mouse: Lomasa and Palita	87
The Mystery of the Goddess Li Shou	93

PART 2:

Cats of Fairy Tale, Lore and Legend	94
-------------------------------------	----

Ferocious Felines	96
Feline Fashion Police: The Yule Cat	97
Be Careful Where You Look: The Skoffin	102
Beware the Wampus Cat	104
Vampire Cats	107
The Vampire Cat of Nabéshima	109
Alien Big Cats of Britain	113
The Fairy Cat: Cat Sith	116
King Arthur's Killer: The Cath Palug	117
Ghost of the Capitol: Demon Cat	121
Japan's Supernatural Cats	125
Nekomata	126
The Kasha	130
Bakeneko	132
Cats and Their Tails	133
The Tail of the Manx Cat	134
The Mystery of the Cabbit	142
The Japanese Bobtail	143
The Old Woman and the Cat	144
A Kink in the Tail	146
Cats in Folk and Fairy Tales	147
The Many Tales of Cats	148
Why Cats Always Wash After Eating	155
Why Dog Chases Cat	158
Bayun the Cat	162
Kisa the Cat	166
How the Pussy Willow Got Its Name	173
The King of the Cats	177
Grinning like a Cheshire Cat	179

Conclusion	182
------------	-----

Acknowledgements	186
------------------	-----

Selected Further Reading	187
--------------------------	-----

Index	190
-------	-----